Sir,

Departmental Examination.

With reference to your No.P.W. 87 dated 5/7/45 calling for the marks list of the Departmental Examination held in 1944, I have the honor to enclose the same herewith.

2. I wish to state that according to principles in vogue, candidates securing 40% of the marks in each of the groups, viz., (1) Engineering subjects taken together, (2) Accounts, and (3) viva-voce, and 50% in the aggregate are brought under the pass list. On this basis, seven out of the twelve that sat for the Examination got through.

3. The question was discussed at the meeting of the members held in office on the 28th April 1945 when all the members except Mr. G.V.Srinivasa Iyengar, Deputy Comptroller, were present. They were unanimously of opinion that Messrs. V.Ramiah, Sl. No.1 and B.N. Srinivasan, Sl. No.12, may also be brought under the list of passed candidates as the former had secured 46% in Accounts, 70% in viva-voce. The deficiency for a pass was only 3% in the Engineering subjects and 2½% in total. The latter had secured 50% in Engineering subjects, 55% in viva-voce and the deficiency for a pass is only 4% in Accounts and 2¼% in the total. Mr. G.V. Srinivasa Iyengar who was consulted has concurred with the recommendations of the rest of the members. I am also in agreement with them and request that sanction of Government may be communicated

Twelve candidates appeared for the Departmental Examination held this year and seven have passed, as per the usual standard of % s set for the passing. The Committee have recommended that Nos. 12 & 1 in the list who have failed due to small deficiency in one item, may also be considered as having passed, thus making a total number of 9 of passed candidates. The names of these 9 have to be notified as having passed.

KM 24/7/45

Are there no rules in this respect? Is there any precedent of the committee having made such a recommendation and the Govt accepting the same?

The Rules regarding the examination (Engg) do not give any definite % for passing but the C.E. in his letter dated July 24, 1945 states that according to principles in vogue (as in the Engg exam of the Mysore Univ'ty), a candidate is considered as having passed when he gets 40% in the written exam papers + viva voce + 50% in the aggregate. Regarding special cases, recommn as at (A) is said to have been made in 1943 for condoning 3% in Accounts Papers, which was accepted by Govt.
